

Johnny B. Moore, Jr.
President & CEO
SunTrust Bank Memphis

Johnny Moore was named President and Chief Executive Officer of SunTrust Bank, Memphis Region on June 1, 2009.

With more than 19 years of banking experience with SunTrust and National Bank of Commerce (its predecessor institution), Mr. Moore most recently served as Executive Vice President and head of the Memphis Region's Commercial Line of Business, which included Metropolitan Lending, Asset Based Lending, and Commodity divisions. The Commercial Line of Business handled the depository, cash management, investment, and lending needs of companies with sales volumes between $5,000,000 and $250,000,000. He was named to that position in January, 2005.

During his career, Mr. Moore has held numerous management positions in the commercial and mortgage banking areas. Prior to joining the bank in January of 1992, he was a Senior Accountant at Ernst and Young and earned his CPA certification.

Mr. Moore is a 1988 graduate of Rhodes College holding a Bachelor of Arts in Business Administration with an emphasis in Accounting.

Active in the community, Mr. Moore currently serves on the boards of directors for the Memphis & Shelby County Port Commission, Greater Memphis Chamber of Commerce, Memphis Tomorrow, National Civil Rights Museum, Orpheum Theatre, and Tennessee State Museum Commission. He is also a member of the boards of trustees for Rhodes College, Memphis University School, Hutchison School, Leadership Academy, Promise Academy and the Plough Foundation. In 2006, he was recognized by the Memphis Business Journal as one of Memphis's "Top 40 Under 40."

Mr. Moore's family includes wife Merry, son Johnny B. Moore, III "Trey", and daughter Madison.
